(1) Revenue not audited by the Statutory Auditors

(2) CC: constant currency

Revenue on 31 December 2022 were sharply up by 20.3% on a reported basis (increase of €55.0 million), compared from the same period in 2021 demonstrating strong growth (up 9.6% at a constant currency basis).

Business growth was driven by Eurasia and Sub-Saharan Africa.

South America is in a decline due to the drop in business volume but is expected to recover in 2023.

In North Africa, the difference can be attributed to the voluntary non-renewal of low-profit contracts over the year.

2023 outlook

CIS intends to continue to build on this positive growth momentum in 2023 by developing its current scopes of activity and penetrating new countries.

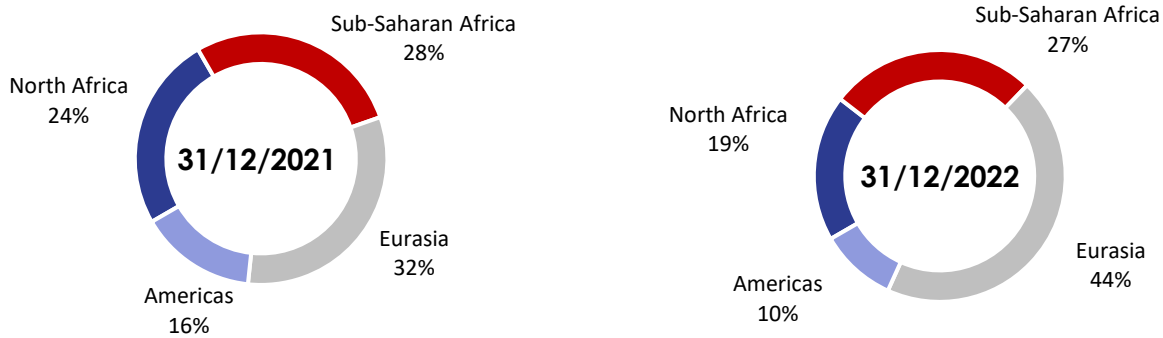

In addition, CIS remains determined to seize any opportunity for acquisition within its core business or to expand its range of services.
